The twinning project will assist competent law enforcement authorities in fulfilling their commitments with regard to Justice and Home Affairs policies. With regard to the EU integration process, the project will contribute towards the implementation of the Stabilisation and Association Agreement (SAA). According to Article 78 (reinforcement of Institutions and Rule of Law), particular attention should be paid to the consolidation of the rule of law, and strengthening of institutions at all levels in the area of law enforcement. Cooperation between BiH and EU shall notably aim at fostering the functioning of the police and other law enforcement bodies and their capacities, providing adequate training in fighting corruption and organized crime, including cooperation under Article 84 (j) on cybercrime. In addition, the project is directly linked with the priority objectives set out in the Indicative Strategy Paper for Bosnia and Herzegovina 2014-2020 (ISP), i.e. requires strengthening of the ability of law enforcement agencies to handle in particular cybercrime. Lastly, the project is in line with the EC Interim report on BiH for 2018, which states that BiH lacks a strategic framework to address the issue of cybercrime and cyber security threats. In addition, this project proposal addresses the areas defined in the:

- Strategy for Fighting Organized Crime in Bosnia and Herzegovina 2017-2020;

<sup>1</sup> Agreement on the withdrawal of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland from the European Union and the European Atomic Energy Community

<sup>2</sup> especially with EUROPOL European Cybercrime Centre (EC3) which has as its mandate to strengthen the law enforcement response to cybercrime and BiH has an operational agreement in place with EUROPOL.”

- Strategic Plan of Ministry of Security of Bosnia and Herzegovina 2018-2020.

3. Description

3.1 Background and justification:

BiH is actively engaged in a process of stabilisation and association. The country has been encouraged and supported to make sustainable and EU-compatible reforms, to consolidate stability and to get closer to the European Union (EU). Among other things, BiH has signed international agreements and conventions relevant to information security and cybercrime. The most prominent ones are the Council of Europe Convention on Cybercrime (CCC), also known as the Budapest Cybercrime Convention, and the Stabilisation and Association Agreement (SAA). However, in line with the country's complex organisation, the security management structure is complex and this poses an important challenge in terms of harmonising with EU regulations. BiH neither has adequately progressed in the cybercrime or cybersecurity fields, nor has it harmonised its cybercrime legislation and procedures accordingly. Namely, just as it is the case with the security management structure in BiH, the legislation and procedures in the country reflect the complex and decentralised organisation of the country. The scarcity and disharmony of legal and procedural regulations in the field of cybercrime and cybersecurity in BiH indicates that there is a need for a systematic approach from the government at all state levels in treating these matters.

As far as cybercrime is concerned, BiH lacks a comprehensive overall strategic approach to address the issue of cybercrime and collection of electronic evidence. Existing capacities to combat cybercrime and respond to cyber security threats need to be strengthened. Given the present threats with regards to unauthorised access to data, network and computers, particular importance should be attached to combating and preventing criminal and irregular activities, such as cybercrime. In order to respond to cybercrime and respond to the challenges to collect and process digital evidence, units for cybercrime and collection and processing of digital evidence were established in several police agencies in BiH. Due to the lack of budget funds, lack of a training strategy covering the areas of cybercrime investigation and digital forensics and lack of individual training plans for cybercrime specialists, the technical qualification level of these units is not satisfactory.

There is a noticeable increase in cybercrime cases in BiH, including the online sexual abuse of children<sup>3</sup>. The possibility to effectively dismantle criminal organisations is seriously hampered by a lack of harmonised criminal legislation in the country, exacerbated by weak institutional cooperation and coordination mechanisms. As a result there is a systemic lack of operational cooperation and a very limited exchange of intelligence, thus creating many opportunities for criminal organisations operating in the country and the region. Taking into consideration the severity and frequency of cybercrime cases in BiH, as well as the lack of capacities in the existing cybercrime units, it is obvious that urgent measures to strengthen this segment are needed. Otherwise, information systems, the information and data owners in BiH would be even more exposed and vulnerable.

There are specialized units dealing with cyber-dependent crime in the Ministry of Interior of the Republic of Srpska and in the Ministry of Interior of the Federation of BiH. In addition, there are several dedicated units in other law enforcement agencies dealing with cyber-enabled crime and electronic evidence, but they suffer from lack of budget resources, technical qualification and staff education of these units in terms of treating crimes in this field. This is additionally impacted by the lack of or disharmony in standardized procedures and communication rules and protocols between law enforcement agencies, prosecution and court institutions, and electronic services providers, which finally results in unsolved cases.

<sup>3</sup> In 2019 there were 117 investigations in cybercrime, including on-line child sexual abuse, against 129 individuals, in 2018 there were 104 investigations against 137 persons were conducted in comparison to 69 investigations against 81 person in 2017. However, the number of convictions in 2019 (23 convictions for 28 individuals) in 2018 (22 convictions against 23 persons) is very low and mainly probations.

EU Response to the cybercrime threat: In order to combat cybercrime, the EU has implemented legislation and supported operational cooperation, as part of the 2013 EU Cybersecurity Strategy. The 2017 Communication "Resilience, Deterrence and Defence: Building strong cybersecurity for the EU" builds on and further develops the EU Cybersecurity Strategy. As outlined in the Communication, the European Commission continues to work on effective EU cyber deterrence, by, among other actions, facilitating cross-border access to electronic evidence for criminal investigations. In the relevant IPA 2017 Action Document (AD) the need and justification for this action has been formulated and approved.<sup>4</sup>

3.2 Ongoing reforms:

In 2006, BiH ratified the Cybercrime Convention, which defines in detail what constitutes cybercrime. The Criminal Code of Bosnia and Herzegovina within Chapter XXI incriminates criminal offenses in accordance with the aforementioned Convention<sup>5</sup>. However, the legislation related to cybercrime is mainly in jurisdiction of entities and Brčko District and it is partially harmonised with the Union acquis.

The Commission adopted on 29 May 2019 the Opinion on Bosnia and Herzegovina's EU membership application. The Opinion is a milestone in EU-Bosnia and Herzegovina relations, confirming that the EU is committed to guide and support the country in undertaking the necessary reforms on its path towards European integration. The Opinion identifies 14 key priorities for the country to fulfil in order to be recommended for opening of EU accession negotiations; it provides a comprehensive roadmap for incremental reforms. The key priorities cover the areas of democracy/functionality; rule of law; fundamental rights; and public administration reform – the fundamentals of the EU accession process. There is also an analytical report accompanying the Opinion that reviews the situation in Bosnia and Herzegovina against all standards applicable to EU Member States. In section C. CONCLUSION AND RECOMMENDATION under the chapter Rule of Law, cybercrime is not specifically mentioned. However indirectly related recommendation can be deduced from the text under point 7. Strengthen the prevention and fight against corruption and organised crime, including money laundering and terrorism, notably by: point d) ensuring effective cooperation among law enforcement bodies and with prosecutors' offices; e) demonstrating progress towards establishing a track record of proactive investigations, confirmed indictments, prosecutions and final convictions against organised crime and corruption, including at high-level.

Further minor recommendation can be taken into account from the Analytical Report Accompanying the document Opinion on Bosnia and Herzegovina's application for <sup>4</sup> "This activity will provide specialised training programme and courses for staff designated to work on cybercrime cases. The specialised training courses will be related to following domains: dealing with electronic devices and devices for recognition which may contain evidence of crime; search of computers and other electronic equipment; analysis of digital evidence and its presentation; use of the Internet as a tool in investigation; interception of electronic messages; prevention of the use of ICT for crimes of paedophilia; ICT system protection and security, as well as many other current and relevant domains for which representatives of units for cybercrime express their interest and need. Activities will build on and coordination and complementarily will be ensured with other interventions in this field such as interventions through regional projects."

<sup>5</sup> In section "IV.8. Cyber Crime" Assessment of Organized Crime Threats in BiH has been determined to recognize that criminal offenses in the area of computer crime are incorporated in the criminal laws in BiH; within the scope of Title XXI - Criminal Offenses of Copyright Infringement in the Criminal Code of Bosnia Herzegovina; in Title XXXII- Criminal Offenses Against the Security of Computer Data of the Republika Srpska Criminal Code; in Title XXXII - Criminal Offenses against the Electronic Data Processing System of the Federation of Bosnia and Herzegovina; and in Title XXXII - Criminal Offenses Against the Electronic Data Processing System of the Criminal Code of the Brčko District of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

membership of the European Union in the point 1.2.2. Chapter 24 Justice, freedom and security.<sup>6</sup>

3.3 Linked activities:

The EU and the Council of Europe (CoE) in January 2016 signed an agreement to implement a regional project for capacity building in the area of combating cybercrime for the Southeastern Europe (SEE) countries – iPROCEEDS, with the emphasis on confiscation of proceeds from online crime or cybercrime. The project duration was 42 months, i.e., until December 2019. The project was jointly financed by the EU and CoE, while the implementation is carried out by the CoE – Office for cybercrime in Bucharest, Romania. Upon the proposal of the Ministry of Security of Bosnia and Herzegovina, the Council of Ministers of Bosnia and Herzegovina at its 80th session held on 10th November 2016 adopted the Decision on establishment of the inter-ministerial working group for the implementation of the project for capacity building in area of cybercrime – iPROCEEDS (published in the Official Gazette of Bosnia and Herzegovina, no. 14/17).

Further on, Bosnia and Herzegovina is also a part of the iPROCEEDS -2 Targeting crime proceeds on the Internet and securing electronic evidence in South-eastern Europe and Turkey that started in January 2020. This project will build on the results achieved during the implementation of the iPROCEEDS project and concentrate on targeted support under the following project areas: i. Legislation regarding securing electronic evidence and access to data in full respect of fundamental rights and freedoms, including privacy and personal data protection; ii. Alignment with EU and Council of Europe personal data protection standards; iii. Promotion of cybercrime and cybersecurity policies and strategies; iv. Interagency and public/private cooperation for investigation of cybercrime and proceeds from crime online; v. Public reporting systems on online fraud and other cybercrime offences; vi. Judicial training on cybercrime and electronic evidence and related financial investigations and anti-money laundering measures; vii. International cooperation and information sharing for investigation of cybercrime and proceeds from crime online. The project duration is 42 months.

Also, law enforcement institutions were a part of an OSCE project “Capacity Building for Criminal Justice Practitioners on Combating Cybercrime and Cyber-enabled in South-Eastern Europe” that took place in the period 2017-2019. The project aims to develop and enhance capacities of criminal justice institutions in South-Eastern Europe (SEE) in investigating cybercrime and cyber-enabled crime, thereby enabling practitioners to detect, identify and gather intelligence and digital evidence necessary to prosecute all types of criminal activities. Furthermore, the project aims to build training capacities of respective beneficiaries to ensure sustainability and continuity of the achieved results and established processes by employing a Training-of-Trainers (ToT) component as its core element.

This will allow beneficiaries to propagate the knowledge and skills to a broader range of criminal justice practitioners, including police, prosecutors, judges and defence lawyers.

This Twinning project shall follow on previous IPA projects in the thematic areas in which it continues providing support (legislation, fight against organized crime, etc.), take stock of the achievements of the above project and ensure coherence. Institutional components will be followed up with a specific focus on cybercrime and electronic evidence and production of standardized procedures and communication between interested stakeholders in this area.

<sup>6</sup> "The country's capacity to combat cybercrime, including addressing online child sexual abuse material and to effectively respond to cyber security threats, is inadequate. The law enforcement authorities must respond more effectively to cybercrime, and focus more on the detection, traceability and the prosecution of cyber criminals".
